I. INTRODUCTION

Mr. David Sien is a representative of the Cambodian students in the university both with the scholarship of HOHAI University. He did mention many things about the internal program such as the scholarship offers, the submission of application, the duration of each year, the speciality and how it's like to be living and studying under the scholarship there.

II. CONTENT

Currently, Mr. David Sien is a representative of Cambodia students and specializes in Civil Engineering in his master degree. HOHAI university is one of the top university in the region which provide many scholarship in each area as well. The University itself is well-known for their speciality and specializing in hydrogen as another word water which excelled in Hydraulic engineering, Civil engineering, Electric engineering and also with software as well. In the school education system, there are 80% of foreigners which because the school itself aims to recruit the best and top talent student in field which they know it's crucial for future development and for master degree are available to chinese and foreigners while the other bachelor filled with all nations. For the scholarship however, there are several and alternative way to apply and option to choose from and all of them included an exam and also interview too by the professor expert and also the admission to accept the proposal. For the scholarship options there are 4 scholarship you can pick from and it lists 1 by 1 starting with CSC which needing to have the government of both organization to accept and acknowledge about your acceptance which include Type A and B while type A is Bilateral program and type B is university program with both them defaultly grants the student the tuition fee, 500$ of salary, free visa, and medical insurance, as for scholarship 2 and 3 are about Jiangsu and Nanjing government which include only for the local area and such which default granting the student 3000 yuans salary for those in the scholarship annually or in total after graduated, last scholarship is HOHAI university themselves with 3 class with descend into 1 2 3 of tuition free, medical insurance, dorm and salary, class 2 with tuition fee and dorm and the last class 3 is just tuition fee. Result will be announced 1 week after the examination which cost 60$ for the entrance exam application fee. Starting the first lesson in Jiangsu which located near the river and after that everything and lesson will be conducting in the HOHAI university. As for the the requirement to be able to complete and graduate the university are HSK3, got to publish research paper, defense thesis, courses and activities. A while before graduation, the career team will be coming to the university to recruit and promote the job and such for the student to chances to explore and have better time employed.

III. CONCLUSION

Overall in this seminar it's quite great for opportunities and a road way of where to go next after graduation and ending one point while looking for another place to go to for experience, knowledge and culture with self development. As for the final message from the speaker, " Ask yourself first, is what we have now acceptable and suitable enough to live on ur full life earning those salary ? if not then try to explore all the area and opportunities around you and always seek wisdom and knowledge.
